

ABOUT THE AUTHORS

Godiva C. Eviota-Rivera, Ph.D. is a philosophy, language studies, and peace education full professor at Mindanao State University, main campus, Marawi City. She has a Doctor of Philosophy in Language Studies and is currently pursuing a Doctor of Philosophy in Philosophy at the University of San Carlos, Cebu City. Her recent training on conflict transformation and peace by The Hague Academy of Local Governance has kept her passion for advocating the existential language of peace-building with women philosophizing in the marginalized part of this world.

Omera Marohombsar-Serad, J.D. is a faculty member of the Department of Philosophy in Mindanao State University, Marawi City. She finished her Juris Doctor and AB Philosophy at the same university. She is currently pursuing her Master of Arts in Philosophy at the University of San Carlos in Cebu City.

Aurora Lyn Racmat, J.D. is an Assistant Professor of Philosophy at Mindanao State University, main campus, Marawi City. She is a part-time lawyer. Presently, she is writing her thesis for her Master of Arts in Philosophy at the University of San Carlos in Cebu City.

Rogelio Bayod, Ph.D. teaches in the graduate and undergraduate programs at Cor Jesu College. He is also the director of student services in the same institution. He finished his doctorate degree in educational administration at the University of Southeastern Philippines in Davao City and a doctoral degree in Global Health and Sustainability from the American University of Sovereign Nations. He is the president of the Philippine Association of Campus Student Advisers Association (PACSA) and Vice President of the Social Ethics Society.

Leslie Anne L. Liwanag, Ph.D. is an Associate Professor of the Department of Filipinology, College of Arts and Letters, at the Polytechnic University of the Philippines, Manila. She is the Managing Editor of the National Research Council of the Philippines Research Journal and the Project Manager of the Andrew Gonzalez Philippine Citation Index. Aldrin R. Palermo, J.D. acquired his Bachelor of Laws degree at the University of San Jose Recoletos, Cebu City, and pursuing his Master of Arts in Political Science degree at the same university. Currently, he is an Instructor at the Department of Liberal Arts and Behavioral Sciences, Visayas State University, Leyte, Philippines.

John Martin A. Diao is currently completing his Master of Arts in Philosophy degree at the University of San Jose Recoletos, Cebu City. He is an Instructor at the Department of Liberal Arts and Behavioral Sciences, Visayas State University, Leyte, Philippines.

Angelie E. Genotiva, M.A. completed her Master of Arts in Political Science degree at the University of San Jose Recoletos, Cebu City. She is an Instructor at the Department of Liberal Arts and Behavioral Sciences, Visayas State University, Philippines.

Rose P. Capulla, Ph.D. finished her Doctor of Philosophy in Philippine Studies at De La Salle University, Manila. At present, she is an Assistant Professor at the Department of Liberal Arts and Behavioral Sciences, Visayas State University, Leyte, Philippines.

Melanie D. Turingan, Ph.D. completed her doctorate in Philippine Studies (with a specialization in Language, Culture, and Media) at De La Salle University, Manila. Currently, she works as an Assistant Dean of the Faculty of Arts and Letters and Associate Professor of the Department of History at the University of Santo Tomas, Manila. Sheila Mae G. Labor acquired her Bachelor of Secondary Education major in Mathematics at the Colegio San Juan de Letran Calamba, Laguna, and is currently completing her Master of Arts in Education major in Educational Management and Leadership at the University of Santo Tomas. She presently serves as the Office Secretary at the Office of the University Registrar at the University of Santo Tomas, Manila, Philippines.

Layne Hartsell, Ph.D. is a Research Professor at the Center for Ethics in Science and Technology, Department of Philosophy, Chulalongkorn University, in Bangkok, Thailand and a Research Fellow at The Asia Institute, Convergence and 3E Program, Seoul, South Korea. He has held teaching/research positions at Mahidol University Siriraj Medical Center, Bangkok; Sungkyunkwan University, South Korea; and the University of Virginia, Charlottesville, Virginia.

Christopher Ryan Maboloc, Ph.D. is an Associate Professor of Philosophy at the Ateneo de Davao University and Lecturer in the Graduate Program for Philosophy at Silliman University. He finished his doctorate in philosophy, maxima cum laude, from the University of San Carlos. He obtained his Master's in Applied Ethics from Linköping University in Sweden and Norwegian University of Science and Technology in Norway. He completed his M.A. in Philosophy at Ateneo de Manila University. He was awarded the Public Intellectual Prize by the Philosophical Association of the Philippines in 2020.

Fr. Urbano Pardillo Jr., Ph.D. cand. graduated at the University of Navarra in Spain for his Master's in Philosophy. He is presently writing for his doctoral dissertation at De La Salle University in Manila under Professor Napoleon Mabaquiao Jr. Fr. Pardillo teaches Philosophy and was the former Dean of Studies at the Saint Francis Xavier College Seminary. He also served as the first Editor in Chief of the Social Ethics Society Journal of Applied Philosophy from 2015 to 2020.

Fr. Dexter Veloso, Ph.D. studied philosophy at the University of Santo Tomas and obtained a Master's in Philosophy at the Ateneo de Davao University. He is teaching at the Saint Francis Xavier College Seminary. He will be defending his dissertation at the American University of Sovereign Nations for his degree in Global Health and Sustainability on May 14, 2023. He is the current president of the Social Ethics Society. Fr. Veloso is the Parish Priest of San Isidro Parish in Lomondao, Marilog District, Davao City.

Gerry Arambala, M.A. (Cand.) is taking graduate studies in philosophy at the University of San Carlos where he is writing on Amartya Sen's capability approach and Thomas Pogge's concept of negative rights under the supervision of Dr. Ryan Urbano before the latter's untimely demise. Mr. Arambala was previously the Chairman of the Department of Philosophy at La Salle University in Ozamiz City. He has taught at Tabor Hill College and the University of San Carlos both in Cebu City. He is currently a faculty at Mindanao State University in General Santos City.

Moises Torrentira Jr., Ph.D. is a faculty at the University of Southeastern Philippines – College of Development Management (USEP- CMD). He studied philosophy at the Ateneo de Davao University. He shifted to development theory and finished his doctorate at the University of Southeastern Philippines. He teaches in the graduate program of USEP – CDM. An entrepreneur by heart, he is known for his restaurants where he uses organic vegetables and sustainable farming methods.

Menelito Piscos Mansueto, M.A. teaches philosophy at the Department of Philosophy, Mindanao State University- Iligan Institute of Technology in Iligan City, Lanao del Norte. He has special interests in media studies, social and political philosophy, decolonial and postcolonial studies. He has obtained both his BA and MA in Philosophy at Holy Name University in Tagbilaran City, Bohol. He has previously taught philosophy, humanities, and social sciences at Cristal e-College, Bohol Island State University, University of Santo Tomas, FEU-Diliman, and Colegio de San Juan de Letran. Currently, he is attending doctorate classes at the American University of Sovereign Nations (AUSN)

Kyle Alfred M. Barte, M.A. is a faculty member of the Department of Philosophy at the University of Santo Tomas in Manila City. He obtained both his BA and MA in Philosophy degrees at Silliman University in Dumaguete City, Negros Oriental. He has previously taught philosophy, humanities, and social science courses at Foundation University and Negros Oriental State University Bayawan-Sta. Catalina Campus.

Jan Gabriel S. Boller, M.A. teaches philosophy at Polytechnic University of the Philippines, Manila where he also obtained his AB Philosophy degree. He recently finished his Master of Arts in Philosophy at Divine Word Mission Seminary in Quezon City with a thesis on Spinoza. His research interests are Epistemology, Contemporary Philosophy, Metaphysics, Anthropocene Studies, and Philosophy of the City.

Juichiro Tanabe, Ph.D. is an assistant professor at Center for International Education of Waseda University, Tokyo, Japan. His research field is Peace Studies. His main research themes are religion and peace, post-liberal peace, and intercultural philosophy and peace.