

About the Authors

Layne Hartsell, Ph.D. (雷恩·哈特塞尔 - 마이클레인 핫셀) is a Research Fellow at the Center of Science, Technology, and Society, Department of Philosophy, Chulalongkorn University, in Bangkok, Thailand. He is a research fellow at The Asia Institute in Berlin/Tokyo in the Convergence Studies and 3E Program (Energy, Economy, & Environment). He also teaches and conducts research in the newly formed project for Bioregional Letters & 3E at North Valley College in Kidapawan City, Philippines. He is a former professor at Sookmyung Women's University and the Research Institute for Asian Women - Asia-Pacific Women's Information Network Center in Seoul, South Korea. He is a former research professor at Sungkyunkwan University and the Advanced Institute of Nanotechnology, Seoul/Suwon. He is a former Lecturer at Mahidol University, Siriraj Medical Center, Department of Molecular Biology and Bioinformatics, Bangkok. He is also a former researcher at the College of Medicine, University of Virginia Medical Center, Charlottesville, Virginia, USA. Hartsell's recent publications include "Bioregionalism as a Theoretical Ecology and a Possible Reorientation," in SES Journal of Applied Philosophy, Vol.9 (2023); and a co-authored article with Juichiro Tanabe, "A Critical Appraisal of Liberal Peace Theory from Buddhist Philosophy: A Path towards a More Humane and Just Peace," in Journal of the Philosophy and Religion Society of Thailand, Vol. 19, no. 2 (2024).

Noel S. Pariñas, LPT, Ph.D., J.D., is an Accreditor of the Accrediting Agency of the Chartered Colleges and Universities in the Philippines (AACUP). Devoted to public service, he served as the Social Sciences Department Chair at Benguet State University, as the Graduate School Dean and Quality Management Executive Chair at Urdaneta City University, and as a Senior Education Program Specialist at the National Educators Academy of the Philippines under the Department of Education. Currently, he teaches philosophy courses at the University of the Philippines.

Bernardo N. Caslib, Jr., Ph.D., is an Associate Professor of Ethics and Philosophy at the University of the Philippines Manila and a lecturer at Ateneo de Manila University. He holds a B.A. (magna cum laude, College Salutatorian), M.A., and Ph.D. from UP Diliman. His specialized expertise is informed by international training in Thomist ethics (Dublin) and Integral Ecology (Rome), as well as a recent Fellowship with the Critical Thinking Fellowship Program at North Carolina State University. A prolific author of college textbooks and articles in indexed journals, Dr. Caslib currently holds the 2025–2027 One U.P. Professorial Chair in Ethics and Philosophy. His editorial leadership includes serving as Managing Editor of Budhi and Associate Editor of Mabini Review and Lunday. A licensed professional teacher and former lead trainer for DEPED NCR and CHED, his current research focuses on the intersections of applied ethics, philosophy of education, bioethics, and the history of philosophy.

Ben Carlo N. Atim, M.A., is currently completing his Ph.D. in Philosophy at the University of Santo Tomas, where he is in the dissertation defense stage of his studies. He also holds an M.A. in Philosophy from the University of the Philippines - Diliman and a certificate in Religious Studies from Maryhill School of Theology. He was a fellow of ISPS-Ratisbonne: Bat Kol-Christian Center for Jewish Studies, Jerusalem, Israel (2024). He is currently an Assistant Professorial Lecturer at De La Salle–College of Saint Benilde, Saint Paul Seminary Foundation, Our Lady of the Angels College-Seminary, and St. Anthony Mary Claret College Seminary, among others, handling a wide scope of courses in philosophy and theology. His scholarly contributions include blind peer-reviewed journal articles on Continental philosophy, education, phenomenology, and socio-political thought, as well as multiple senior high school textbooks published by DIWA/UPFA Publishing. He has presented and facilitated workshops at local conferences, particularly on themes linking philosophy with culture, media, and education.

Sean Patrick Mercado began his philosophical studies when he pursued his tertiary education at the Mother of Good Counsel Seminary (MGCS) in Pampanga from 2020 until 2023. It was here that he was greatly influenced by the works and thoughts of Fr. Roque Ferriols. In 2023, he transferred to the University of Santo Tomas to continue his philosophical endeavors. In April 2024, he got accepted as part of the Editorial Board of Talisik: An Undergraduate Academic Journal of Philosophy. In 2025, he finished his Bachelor of Arts in Philosophy at the University of Santo Tomas. Currently, he is pursuing his graduate studies at the same university, taking a Master of Arts major in Philosophy. His research interests focus on Bertrand Russell, Filipino Philosophy, Ethics, Fr. Roque Ferriols, and Feminism.

Kenichi Andreau F. Tigas, LPT, is a graduate of the degree Bachelor of Arts majoring in philosophy from the University of Santo Tomas, Manila, in 2019, and is currently taking the degree Master of Arts in Philosophy at De La Salle University, Manila. He is a professional licensed teacher working as a full-time instructor at the Senior High School of Adamson University, Manila. He has presented at some local and international conferences and is interested in writing and research on Karol Wojtyla, philosophical anthropology, ethics, and philosophy of education.

John Raymund S. Alonzo is a graduate of AB Philosophy from the Mother of Good Counsel Seminary. He is currently pursuing a Master of Arts in Philosophy at the University of the Philippines Diliman, where he also serves as an instructor, teaching Philosophical Analysis (PHILO I). His academic interests include the philosophy of language, philosophy of religion, and epistemic injustice. His recent publication, "Revisiting the Family: The Church and the Sacrament of Matrimony in the Age of Modernity," appeared in PAMISULU: An Interdisciplinary Journal on Theology and Philosophy (ISSN 2243-8717), Volume 8, Numbers 1 & 2, 2023– 2024, published by the Mother of Good Counsel Seminary. He also recently presented his paper titled "Epistemic Virtue: Analyzing the Negative Effect of Epistemic Injustice on the Healthcare System for Indigenous Peoples in the Philippines" at the UP Center for Integrative and Development Studies International Conference on Resisting Intellectual Imperialism and Epistemic Violence, held on November 10, 2024.

Neggie Sam Ray P. Cuaresma, M.A., is an Assistant Professor at the School of Arts and Sciences at National University Fairview, where he handles general education courses. He earned his AB and MA in Philosophy from the University of Santo Tomas and is currently a doctoral student at the same university. He is a member of professional organizations such as the Philosophical Association of the Philippines (PAP) and the Philosophical Association of Northern Luzon (PANL). His research interests include ethics, animal ethics, aesthetics, and the work of Stanley Cavell.

Alvin C. Laserna Jr. graduated Summa Cum Laude from Casiciaco Recoletos Seminary, Inc., where he developed a strong academic foundation. His research interests include Aristotelian-Thomistic Philosophy, Existentialism, Philosophy of Man, and Augustinian Philosophy. Alvin's work reflects a deep engagement with classical and contemporary philosophical thought, contributing to ongoing scholarly conversations within these fields.

Christopher Ryan B. Maboloc, Ph.D., is an Associate Professor at Ateneo de Davao University. He is a Visiting Scholar at Lanzhou University, China and a Fellow in the ASAP Yale Global Justice Program. He holds a PhD in Philosophy from the University of San Carlos, maxima cum laude. He obtained his MA in Applied Ethics at Linköping University in Sweden and NTNU. He has an MA in Philosophy from Ateneo de Manila University. He was trained at the Konrad Adenauer Stiftung in Bonn and Berlin, Germany.